

Hamid Sharif
Managing Director

Sharif is the first Managing Director of AIIB's Complaints-resolution, Evaluation and Integrity Unit (CEIU), the office responsible for independently evaluating the Bank's portfolio and overseeing internal and external grievance procedures relating to compliance with AIIB's environment and social policy and its anticorruption policy. He reports directly to AIIB's Board of Directors. Sharif has more than two decades of experience in international development in Asia across major sectors. Before joining AIIB in June 2016, he was the Country Director for the People's Republic of China Resident Mission of the Asian Development Bank (ADB) and served as ADB's Assistant General Counsel, Chairman of the Appeals Committee and Principal Director of the Central Operations and Services Office. Before ADB, Sharif was a partner at the law firm Walker Martineau Saleem in Lahore, Pakistan. He is a United Kingdom-qualified barrister and holds a Masters in Law from the University of Cambridge. Sharif is from Pakistan and the United Kingdom.
